DOCTORS DISAGREE.

Whether or Not Dogfish Infested Nova Scotia Shore This Season.

Apparently Nova Scotia has escaped the dogfish pest this season, on which fact the Canadian fishermen have been loudly congratulating themselves. In speaking of its deliverance from this wasp of the seas, the North Sydney, C. B., Herald says:

"The dogfish pest is not so much in evidence this summer as was the case in seasons for the past dozen years. The dogfish's natural home is in the southern waters of the United States. If he stay home in future and not betake himself on a summer excursion to those northern waters it will mean much to the people of Canada. After all the Minister of Marine and Fisheries has displayed some wisdom in not expending the resources of the country to the extent of thousands of dollars in methods for the destruction of dogfish pest as he was pressed to do. The conclusion arrived at by the fisheries department that the dogfish would find in a year or two, haunts in other places than the Atlantic coastal waters was sensible. Much money has been saved in unnecessary expenditure by the absence this year of the dogfish pest. May he never be again in evidence in our Atlantic waters."

What may apply to Cape Breton waters evidently is not characteristic of all the Provincial coast, as witness the following, which is respectfully referred to the Herald:

"Along the Bay of Fundy, as in coastwise fishing centres in the lower provinces, fishermen and fish dealers complain bitterly of the dogfish pest, which yearly is becoming worse and threatens to ruin the fishing industry of the maritime provinces, especially of the Bay of Fundy, unless immediate steps are taken for the extermination of the dogfish."

TOO THIN.

Is the Attempt to Give Bond Credit for Arbitration Idea.

Speaking of the attempt of the St. John's Herald to give to Sir Robert Bond the credit of having the herring fishery trouble referred to the Hague Tribunal, the Trade Review of Newfoundland, one of the leading papers of the island, says:

"Mr. Bond did acquiesce at a late hour in the day, in a proposal for arbitration, but it was as a last resort, and after he had been called down by the British government for his swaggering impudence, and his exhibition of obvious ignorance of the principles involved in the question.

"After he had been plainly given to understand that the matter was entirely beyond his province to interfere with, and that his status in the situation should be only one of respectful protest, he whimpered like a whipped child, and said he would be willing to accept arbitration, rather than go back to Newfoundland without some kind of an old explanation for the fiery patriots, who were, and are, just as ignorant of the international nature of the question as he was, and is, himself.

"For those in the secret know, the attempt to give the Right Hon. gentleman credit in this connection is too thin."

CUTTER GRESHAM HERE.

Will Start For Newfoundland About Middle of Week.

Her Guns Dismounted as Mission is Peaceful One.

The United States revenue cutter Gresham, Capt. Perry, arrived at this port Saturday night, all ready for her fall and winter trip to Bay of Islands, whither she will go with Mr. A. B. Alexander on board, to keep a watchful eye on the herring fishery.

The Gresham is fitted for a long cruise of four months or more and her guns have been dismantled and landed, and her mission is to be a peaceful one.

She will probably sail Wednesday or Thursday, as Mr. Alexander, who has received his final instructions from the state department, is awaiting the arrival of a few necessary papers from Washington, which should be here in a day or so.

FOULED ATLANTIC CABLE.

Sch. Tacoma Had To Cut to Save the Continent Connector.

Sch. Tacoma, Capt. Adelbert Nickerson, which arrived here yesterday from Quero bank, had to cut her trip short on account of lack of ground tackle, her anchor having become caught in one of the Atlantic cables and she was obliged to cut away over 100 fathoms of her own cable to save the continent connector from breaking or other damage.

Sept. 4.

SALT MACKEREL RISE.

Twenty and Seventeen Dollars for Large and Medium.

Salt mackerel took a rise this morning when the fare of sch. Corsair sold to the Gloucester Mackerel Co., at $20 per barrel for large and $17 per barrel for mediums, this being an advance of 50 cents per barrel for large and a dollar a barrel on mediums. Other sales are expected this afternoon.

Sept. 4.

Fine Shack Trips.

Sch. Susan and Mary, Capt. George P. Tufts, is here this morning with a big shack trip, 180,000 pounds of fresh fish.
Sch. Mildred Robinson, Capt. Lewis Devine, is also in with a good trip of shack, 140,000 pounds of fresh fish.

Mackerel Notes.

Schs. Good Luck, Norma, Rob Roy, Fame, Squanto, Pinta, A. M. Nicholson, Lottie G. Merchant, Madonna, Speculator, Victor, Elizabeth Silsbee and Veda M. McKown were at Portland Monday.

Steamer Bessie Dugan was at Portland Monday with 10 barrels of fresh mackerel.

The fare of sch. S. H. Pinkham sold to the Gloucester Salt Fish Co. at $15 per barrel for mediums and $12 per barrel for small.

The fare of sch. Dauntless sold to the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co. for a lump sum.

The fare of sch. Helen G. Wells sold to Davis Bros. and George Perkins & Son at $19.50 per barrel for large, $16 for mediums and $12 for small.

Sch. Nellie Dixon was at Boston yesterday with 50 barrels salt mackerel, which sold at $19 per barrel for large, $15.50 for mediums and $12 for small.

The fare of sch. Arthur James sold to the Frank E. Davis Fish Co. at $20.50 per barrel for large trimmed fish, $17 per barrel for trimmed mediums and $16 per barrel for plain mediums.

The fare of sch. Cynthia sold to William H. Jordan & Co. at $19 for large, $17.25 for mediums and $15 for small.

The fare of sch. Claudia sold to the Gloucester Salt Fish Co. at $20 per barrel for large and $17.50 per barrel for mediums.

The fare of sch. Terra Nova sold to George Perkins & Son at $19.50 for large, $16 for mediums and $12 for small.

The Portland papers say it is many years since such a large fleet of mackerel have been at that port as were anchored there yesterday.

As one of the sellers was making the dock at Commercial wharf, Portland, on Monday, one of the crew, in passing a line, lost his balance and fell overboard, but was soon pulled out.

The fare of sch. Lizzie M. Stanley sold to Fred Bradley and the Gorton-Pew Co. for a lump sum, $2450.

There is only one mackerel arrival here this morning, sch. Mary E. Harty, Capt. Reuben Cameron, having 136 barrels of salt mackerel. The fare sold to William H. Jordan & Co.

Fishing Fleet Movements.

Steamer Pet was at Portland Monday.

Sept. 4.

SEINERS STORMBOUND.Many of Mackerel Fleet Harbor at Portland and Portsmouth.*One Vessel Reports Seeing Fish But Too Rough To Set.

Over half the seining fleet is on the Maine coast in search of mackerel schools there, but today most of them are stormbound at Portsmouth and Portland harbors.

Sch. Constellation, Avalon, Arthur Binney, Alert, Albert Geiger Colonial, Dixie, Esperanto, Elva L. Sparling, Grayling, Lucania, Marguerite Haskins, Mary T. Fallon, Mary E. Hart, Mary F. Curtis, Mary A. Osler, Saladin and Shenandoah were at Portsmouth yesterday for harbor.

A special from Portland this noon states that 36 of the mackerel seining fleet were at that port today for harbor, having put in there yesterday and during the night. One of the skippers sends word that they saw some schools of fish on the way there, but that the weather was nasty and there was no chance to get a set.

Sept. 5.

FINE HALIBUT FARE.Sch. Cavalier Brings 65,000 Pounds from Bacalieu Bank.*Capt. Porper Reports No Ice and Remarkable Fine Weather.

Sch. Cavalier, Capt. Robert Porper, arrived last evening from Bacalieu Bank. As usual she has a big fare, 60,000 or 65,000 pounds of halibut.

The schooner fished on Bacalieu bank far to the northward, around latitude 54. The crew were favored by remarkably fine and clear weather, had just enough wind to work the vessel around the dories, and, strange to say, saw no ice, which is most unusual, as generally fares caught on this ground in that latitude are secured while icebergs and ice floes are about vessel and dories.

Capt. Porper and his men say that in all their years of fishing in this far northern locality they never saw such fine weather as has prevailed on the trip just completed and the one preceding it.

No vessels were seen throughout the entire trip. The fare sold to the New England Fish Co. at 9 cents per pound for white and 6 cents per pound for gray.

New Fishing Steamer.

The new fishing steamer Mary, recently purchased by Capt. Sorenson of Boston, for the fishing business in Boston Bay, reached Central wharf yesterday from New York. Many of the friends of Capt. Sorenson and others interested, visited the steamer during the day and expressed their approval on the new craft.

Sept. 5.

U. S. NEED NOT FEAR.Through Arbitration of Newfoundland Herring Trouble.

In an editorial on "Fishery Arbitration," the Boston Advertiser of recent date says:

"The failure of the Blaine-Bond and of the Hay-Bond reciprocity treaties by our own senate aggravated the hostile Newfoundland attitude, and though that attitude has almost constantly been confined to officialdom, the Newfoundland fishermen inclining toward friendliness with the Americans, it has been impossible to adjust the official differences. The United States need not fear the adjustment of the matter through arbitration. In the meantime the modus vivendi of last season will hold."

Sept. 5.

OVER $24,000.Capt. Wallace Parsons Has Made Big Record This Summer.*His Crew in Sch. Ingomar Have Shared Over $562.

Sch. Ingomar, Capt. Wallace Parsons, has made a notable record in the mackerel seining fishery this season. On her last trip the vessel stocked $3578.15, the crew sharing $82.53. This brings Capt. Parsons' stock for the season thus far up to the splendid total of $24,035.71, while his crew have made the fine share of $562.66. This is certainly great work and puts Capt. Parsons second in the annual high line race. The vessel will sail again as soon as the weather favors.

Capt. Parsons has always done well and is recognized as one of the leading seining skippers of the fleet, and his many friends will hear with much pleasure of his good work this season. Besides doing so well, he also had the honor this spring of landing the first mackerel trip of the season at New York.

Sept. 5.

OFF ON WHALING CRUISE.

New Bedford, Mass., Sept. 5.—Schooner Margaret, a Gloucester-built fishing boat of 130 tons, of which Erastus Church is captain and James W. Buddington first mate, sailed today for Cape Horn, on a seven months' whaling cruise. Church and Buddington are two of the last of the old whaling captains and have lived in retirement for several years.

Sept. 5.

OFF MOUNT DESERT.Mackerel Have Struck In Says Telegram at Portland.

A letter to the Times from its Portland correspondent states that the report that mackerel had struck off Mount Desert was confirmed yesterday by a telegram received yesterday by Capt. Solomon Jacobs of sch. A. M. Nicholson, which is at Portland for harbor along with fleet of 30 mackerel catchers.

Sept. 5.

Sept. 6.

BEGAN NEW OPERATIONS.Atlantic Maritime Co. Took Out Sch. Mina Swim's Fare.

The Atlantic Maritime Co., which recently bought the wharf on Rogers street fronting on Harbor Cove and improved it with the idea of doing a general fish business, has started in, for yesterday the concern was taking out the fare of salt and fresh codfish of sch. Mina Swim, one of the vessels of its own fleet. In the future the company will actively participate in the business and trips will be taken in regularly.

The starting in of a new concern like this is a good thing, as it means work for so many more people and injects a new factor into the buying of fares and shipping of fish.

TOOK LOTS OF SQUID.Many Brought to St. Pierre from Banks for Salting.

A number of French bankers have returned to St. Pierre of late with good catches. Several have brought back large quantities of squid taken on the Banks, which have been salted for the fall fishery. Squid are so plentiful at St. Pierre harbor that they are being sold at 15 cents per hundred. It looks as if the Frenchmen will not be scarce of bait for some time.

Sept. 6.

MACKEREL AT TRINITY.Newfoundland Fishermen Take Some There First Time in Years.

A St. John's, N. F., despatch of August 27 says:

"Some mackerel were taken this season at Trinity near St. John's, the first that have been taken for many years. There are also some indications that the large Labrador herring after an absence of a great many years are coming back to the coast. The fishermen believe that these catches mark the beginning of a change for the better in the Newfoundland fisheries."
